Taking Care of Family and Faith

When planning a future gift, it's sometimes difficult to determine what size donation will make sense. Emergencies happen, and you need to make sure your family is financially taken care of first.

Including a bequest or a percentage of your estate ensures that your gift will remain proportionate no matter how your estate's value fluctuates over the years.

Donors to the Society of the Divine Savior (Salvatorians) are a faith-filled group of people who have come to know Jesus in their lives and want to share His grace with others.

We thank them for their prayers, vision and dedication and for considering a legacy gift to the Society of the Divine Savior.

Please remember us in your will and estate plans.

Ways to Give

Gifts that make an impact after your lifetime, such as bequests and beneficiary designations.

Gifts that pay you income, such as charitable annuities and charitable remainder trusts.

Gifts that you make today, such as memorial or honorary gifts, charitable lead or donor-advised trusts.

How to Begin

Talk to your estate planner or lawyer about including language in your will or trusts.

* Let us know, so we can thank you now!

Sample Bequest Language

I give to The Society of the Divine Savior (Tax ID 39-0806210), a non-profit religious organization headquartered in Milwaukee, WI with ministry throughout the United States and world, the sum of $ _____ (OR _____% of my estate OR the property described herein).

Consider a Codicil

This will allow you the opportunity to make adjustments to your will or trusts without having to have it (them) rewritten completely.

Disclaimer

Please have your will or codicil drafted by an attorney who is familiar with the estate laws of the state where you live. We are not engaged in legal or tax advisory service.

A gift to the Society of the Divine Savior through your will or living trust allows you to make a meaningful contribution that supports our mission outreach efforts far into the future, yet costs you nothing today.

A charitable bequest can be in the form of a precise dollar amount or a specific property, such as stock. You can also designate a residual charitable bequest, which is determined after payment of specific amounts to heirs. Bequests, like other gifts, can be restricted for a specific purpose or given without such constraints.

If you already have a will, you can append a charitable bequest with the simple addition of a codicil.

Charitable bequests will not alter your lifestyle and they can be easily modified to address your changing needs.

Since your charitable bequest may not come to The Society of the Divine Savior for many years, general bequests are the most valuable as they allow the Salvatorians to apply your funds wherever the need is greatest at the time.

Let us know...

Have you included the Society in your estate plans? Let us know so we can enroll you in the Francis Jordan Legacy Club. You will receive our Hearts on Fire Perpetual calendar and be enrolled in our Masses.
